

Working with Steiner's epoch motifs as a training for the ordering of the Soul

with Fiona Campbell

They 'lead us to confront the greatest of riddles – that of human destiny'

A series of 7 online experiential workshops + weekend studio

Immerse yourself in this unique journey through our soul/spiritual development! From our primeval beginnings, through Lemuria and Atlantis to today and into the 6th epoch, through these motifs we can capture something of the 'quiver' of past experiences lying deep in our soul-life.

This practice-based course introduces Steiner's Goetheanum ceiling sketches, a sequence given to the painters as a picture progression of the spiritual history of humanity. He described them as a training in karmic vision that could potentially awaken a perception of karma.

Each session includes a short lecture followed by experiential artwork, contemplation and Q&A. The series culminates in an optional weekend workshop where you can deepen your experiences and develop your work in artforms of your own choice in a shared studio. No artistic skills required!

Online dates: 12/26 February | 19 March | 2/23 April | 7/21 May 2022

Time: Saturdays 4.00pm to 5.30pm AEDT

Cost: $200 for the full series of 7 workshops or $33 for individual workshops

Weekend studio dates: 4/5 June 2022

Studio venue/cost: tba

Register: click here! to register for online course. Workshops will be recorded.

For program information: click here or contact Fiona Campbell paintedspace@gmail.com

'In the Goetheanum were forms that would awaken a perception of karma' Steiner, April 27, 1924