

PRESENTERS

Marcus Cox has worked in Education for forty-five years; he has worked with Children with Special Needs, with Prep, taken a class from class 1-8 and worked in Secondary Education. At present he is working in Adult Education at the Melbourne Seminar for Steiner Education. His particular interests in Anthroposophy lie in the manifestations of Karma and Destiny, the nature of Substance and the transformative, trans-substantiating power of the Grail as it will work into the future.

Lisa Devine is a priest of The Christian Community in Sydney. She has a Masters in Psychology and has worked with at-risk youth and their families. She has worked as a Chaplain/ Counselor in three Steiner schools. She teaches at the Sydney Rudolf Steiner College and is a trained eurhythmist .

Claire Louise Hayashi has always been interested in colours and has recently graduated from the Sienna Academy. She currently is setting up a practice in Melbourne's East as a Collot d'Herbois therapist.

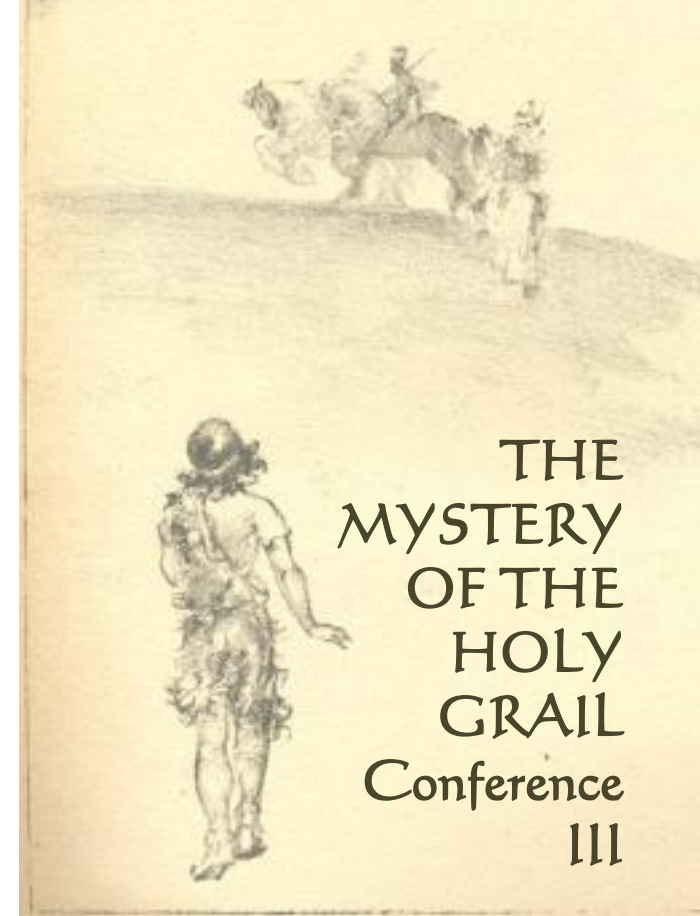

Yasushi Hayashi studied speech and education at Emerson College in England and then worked for 25 years in Steiner schools as a class and language teacher in Aberdeen, Samford Valley, Queensland and Canberra. He has for many years acted in and directed the Paradise, Shepherd's and King's Plays from the Oberufer Mystery Plays with his school and congregational communities. Yasushi is passionate about the unifying, transformative power of the word.

Danaë Killian is a concert pianist and academic. She is an Honorary Fellow in the Faculty of Fine Arts and Music at the University of Melbourne, where she earned her PhD in 2010 with a dissertation on Woolf's The Waves as a contemporary imagining of the harmony of the spheres. Danaë and Barbara Hornung recently launched their new Move Records CD Ernest Bloch: Viola and Piano.

Cheryl Nekvapil is priest of The Christian Community in Melbourne, and has explored the Parsifal story through workshops, camps, and study groups. After training as a physiotherapist and working as a birth educator, Cheryl taught in kindergarten, worked in educational administration, and for the past decade has been a school chaplain and welfare support person in Steiner schools. Finding questions for her journey has been a life quest.

Andrew Wolpert has been working at the Waldorf Teacher Training Seminar and at the Priests Seminar in Stuttgart for many years. He led the Spirit of English Course at Emerson College for 17 years, worked as a language teacher in Japan, South America, Italy and London, where he was born in 1947. He was a Waldorf School pupil, a Waldorf father, and is now a Waldorf grandfather. His work includes lectures, seminars and courses in the fields of Art History, Shakespeare, Parzival, Christology, and other anthroposophical themes. He travels widely in Europe, and Asia. This is his third visit to Australia.
