

Imagine a time before Pine Gap, imagine First People holding a corroboree at Jessie Gap to welcome all children born on this continent - no matter where their parents came from - so that they are safe; so that they can belong and the old people can look out for them. Imagine holding this corroboree after invasion, after massacres, after frontier wars. Imagine the high cultural ethics and profound generosity of spirit it takes to carry this - to still welcome, to be willing to share knowledge, and teach 'right way'
