Meeting BaBa YaGa

Before life separated into good and evil, there was Baba Yaga. Crumbling and creating matter in her iron mortar and pestle, stirring the universe. Ignoring gravity, flying through the air. Meeting her demands courage; a journey through the wildwood after someone has doused all light in your life and thrust you out into cold and the only hope lies at the end of a lonely and frightening passage through the night-shadowed forest. This is a journey of consciousness; the alchemical work of separation and blending; developing emotional dexterity, authentic judgment, nurturing patience and sound knowing: I can do this!

In this one-day workshop, Storyteller & Social Artist, Iris Curteis will take you deep into the feminine mystery of Baba Yaga. Her tools: oral storytelling, mapping, image-making, creative writing & guided conversations in a safe & respectful space.
